All of the above-identified applications claim priority from Provisional Application No. 60/014,427, which was filed on March 28, 1996.--

IN THE CLAIMS:

Please CANCEL claims 1-43 without disclaimer of or prejudice to the subject matter thereof and INSERT claims 44 - 46 as follows:

1 --44. A coherent computer system, comprising:

2 a plurality of first computers operable by first users, each of the first computers comprising 3 a first storage medium which stores computer readable instructions permitting a respective first 4 computer to access a server, and

5 a server computer accessible via a wide area network (WAN) which stores computer readable 6 instructions for permitting each of the first computer to:

7 receive a form including N fields;

8 receive textual data as field data in selected ones of the N fields;

9 assemble said field data into a first file; and

10 transmit the first file to a selected one of a plurality of second computers via a 11 communications channel; and

12 a plurality of second computers operable by associated second users, each of the second 13 computers comprising a second storage medium which stores computer readable instructions
14 permitting a respective second computer to receive said first file via the communications channel, 15 wherein:

16 the selected ones of the N fields which accept text data are determined responsive to text
17 entered into a first predetermined one of the N fields,

18 the format of the file is determined responsive to text entered in the first predetermined one
19 of the N fields

20 the selected one of the second computers is selected responsive to the text entered into the 21 first predetermined one of the N fields,

22 the computer readable instructions stored on the server are updated responsive to changes 23 generated by the second users, and

24 N is an integer greater than 2.--

1 --45. The coherent computer system as recited in Claim 44, wherein the selected ones of the 2 N fields is further limited responsive to text entry into a second predetermined one of the N fields. --

2 --46. The coherent computer system as recited in Claim 45, wherein the first predetermined 3 one of the N fields accepts a payer name or ID number, and wherein the second predetermined one of the N fields accepts a code specifying a medical service.--

REMARKS

Claim 44-46 are pending in the application as a result of the instant Amendment. It is respectfully submitted that claim 44-46 are fully supported by the specifications as filed; the new claim does not add new matter to the instant application.

It is respectfully submitted that the Preliminary Amendment places the above-identified application in better condition for initial examination.

If any points remain in issue which the Examiner feels may best be resolved through a personal or telephone interview, the Examiner is kindly requested to contact the undersigned at the telephone number listed below.

Respectfully submitted,
